DATA ANALYST I
Location: Detroit, MI

Petram Data is searching for a qualified Data Analyst I to deliver timely, accurate reports and data requests for internal and external stakeholders, as well as, develop an extensive understanding of available data sets. Petram Data’s Data Analysts are responsible for assisting with the development, maintenance, and implementation of good and precise data flow, input, and reporting outputs.

You will provide critical support in growing our business and constructing next-generation data infrastructure to support and power Petram Data’s analytics engine.

As a Data Analyst I you will be responsible for...

- Data analysis: understand datasets, create reports, dashboards and pull data extracts for internal & external stakeholders
- Data analysis: Strong excel skills (Pivot analysis, VBA scripting, Lookup)
- Dashboards & Visualization: Create graphs and charts using popular tools like Tableau, Excel etc
- Dashboards & Visualization: Ability to summarize key findings using excel reports and slides
- Data extraction: Strong SQL skills
- Strategic thinking that connects data flows with big picture business results
- Assisting in supporting the flow of accurate data sets to various tools that enable stakeholders to access information
- Analyzing data to forecast potential trends
- Assist in developing and creating graphs and charts for presentations that are both internal and external facing

Experience you have....

- Bachelor’s degree or proven experience in information technology or other related fields
- Demonstrated curiosity and drive for identifying the most efficient and accurate reporting solutions.
• 1-3 years of experience in data manipulation and analysis
• Ability to complete and validate ad-hoc data requests as needed
• Understanding of current product trends and technology innovations
• Ability to learn and write SQL code using multiple tools
• Organized, detail-oriented and able to multitask
• Presenting data and technical findings to non-technical users

Why Petram Data

At Petram, we are passionate about our work and committed to greatness. Leveraging our collective genius as a team to innovate for the future; we’re looking for people committed to learning who are self-motivated, problem solvers inspired to solve the big problems our customers bring to us. Revealing insights in data to empower our clients is one side of the coin, inspiring teammates to thrive is the other.

Petram is dedicated to growing and upholding a culture of inclusion and continued learning. The diversity of our team is what makes Petram thrive and build the best solutions for our customers. As we build our team, we encourage potential candidates to consider their unique contribution in terms of languages spoken, veteran’s status, education, opinions, culture, ethnicity, race, sex, gender identity and expression, nation of origin, age, religion, sexual orientation, beliefs, disability, and color.